SUMMARY

I'm a tech enthusiast with real-world experience at Walmart, where I worked on turning raw data into clear, actionable insights and building responsive web applications. I'm skilled in tools like React, JavaScript, Power BI, SQL, and Python. Whether it's creating dashboards to support business decisions or developing smooth user interfaces, I enjoy solving problems and making technology work better for people. I thrive in fast-paced environments and always aim for clean, accurate, and impactful results.
